Appendix 1-C

The Donor-Centric Pledge¹

We, [fill in the name of your nonprofit organization here], believe that ...

- 1. Donors are essential to the success of our mission.
- 2. Gifts are not "cash transactions." Donors are not merely a bunch of interchangeable, easily replaceable credit cards, checkbooks and wallets.
- 3. No one "owes" us a gift just because our mission is worthy.
- 4. Any person who chooses to become our donor has enormous potential to assist the mission.
- 5. Having a program for developing a relationship with that donor is how organizations tap that enormous potential.
- 6. We waste that potential when donors are not promptly thanked.
- 7. "Lifetime value of a donor" is the best (though often overlooked) way to evaluate "return on investment" in fundraising.
- 8. Donors are more important than donations. Those who currently make small gifts are just as interesting to us as those who currently make large gifts.
- 9. Acquiring first-time donors is easy but keeping those donors is hard.
- 10. Many first-time gifts are no more than "impulse purchases" or "first dates."
- 11. We'll have to work harder for the second gift than we did for the first.
- 12. A prerequisite for above-average donor retention is a well-planned donor-centric communications program that begins with a welcome.
- 13. Donors want to have faith in us, and it's our fault if they don't.
- 14. Donors want to make a difference in the world—and our mission is one of many means to that end.
- 15. Donors are investors. They invest in doing good. They expect their investment to prosper, or they'll invest somewhere else.
- 16. We earn the donor's trust by reporting on our accomplishments and efficiency.
- 17. Individual donors respond to our appeals for personal reasons we can only guess at.
- 18. Asking a donor why she or he gave a first gift to us will likely lead to an amazingly revealing conversation.
- 19. Fundraising serves the donors' emotional needs as much as it serves the organization's financial needs.
- 20. We are in the "feel good" business. Donors feel good when they help make the world a better place.
- 21. A prime goal of fundraising communications is to satisfy basic human needs such as the donor's need to feel important and worthwhile.
- 22. The donor's perspective defines what is a "major" gift.²
- 23. Every first gift can open a door to an entirely new world for the donor, through participation in our cause.

²A repeat donor of $25 annual gifts who suddenly increases her gift tenfold to $250, for instance, is making a major commitment that deserves special acknowledgment.
